We've kicked off business-as-usual for the New Year and are excited to make a couple of announcements.

Firstly, we've begun 2016 with a fresh, updated Web site along with a brand-new domain: www.harty.law.

We also welcome a new addition to our team, Ruan du Toit.

HARTY RUSHMERE LAUNCHES NEW WEB SITE

We've kicked off business-as-usual for the New Year and are looking forward to partnering with our diverse global and local client base to realise their strategic goals.

We have also begun 2016 with a fresh, updated Web site along with a brand-new .law domain. In addition to a new look-and-feel, the site also provides a concise overview of all the legal services we provide, ranging from IT to commercial law. Both our regular and new clients will find information relevant to their specific needs in a clean, simple-to-navigate format.

We are proud to celebrate our 23rd year of continuous practice in 2016. During this time, we have fostered ongoing relationships with loyal clients, remained an independent firm, and constantly kept up with global best practice and innovation.

Since our inception in 1994, we have worked alongside businesses to provide legal services that are mindful of their long-term strategy. Our insight enables us to provide an end-to-end outsourced legal service, either to supplement or replace existing corporate teams. This service has proven to be very successful and is a growing trend globally.

Our focus on innovation is evident in our new URL, www.harty.law. The .law domain name only came into being late last year, and we are one of its early adopters in South Africa. This is just a small way that sets us apart from the norm, which continually strive to achieve with the services we provide. We hope you enjoy the new site (do let us know what you think), and wish you a prosperous 2016.

WELCOMING RUAN DU TOIT

In January 2016 we welcomed Ruan du Toit to our team. Ruan completed his LLB degree with distinction from the University of Pretoria in 2012. After completing his articles at a boutique commercial law firm in Sandton, he was admitted as an Attorney of the High Court.

Ruan has practised in the spheres of corporate and commercial law, with special emphasis on company law and transactional work. His holistic approach to law and relevant experience make him a valuable new asset to the team.
